Minister's message / National Aboriginal Awareness Day (02/06/18)

NB 631

June 18, 2002

FREDERICTON (CNB) -- Following is a message from Justice Minister Brad Green, Minister responsible for Aboriginal Affairs, on the occasion of National Aboriginal Awareness Day, Friday, June 21, 2002:

"June 21 is National Aboriginal Awareness Day. This is a day to celebrate, honour and acknowledge the culture, heritage and achievements of Aboriginal people in Canada and New Brunswick.

As we celebrate National Aboriginal Awareness Day in New Brunswick, we would like to recognize the culture and proud heritage of Maliseet and Mi'kmaq First Nation communities.

Medicine, transportation, arts and crafts and holistic teachings, are just some of the gifts that the Maliseet and Mi'kmaq communities have shared with us. These gifts are part of what makes New Brunswick a great province where we recognize and celebrate diverse communities.

Please join with me in acknowledging and participating in National Aboriginal Awareness Day throughout New Brunswick."
